

The SharePoint World

The SharePoint world has changed dramatically over the past years since the first release and the world of business has changed as well.

The economy is global and interconnected now since SharePoint was first released. Overall, SharePoint allows users to connect and collaborate more efficiently and effectively. With more resources than in the past using and needed to run SharePoint as dedicated teams now provide its content be it an on premise or cloud version.

Through it all, SharePoint allows individuals and organizations to achieve strategic goals and growth. SharePoint allows for the empowerment of professionals to develop knowledge and skills successfully.

One aspect in the SharePoint world to be aware of in regard to these aspects is that of governance - a quick outline on this topic in the SharePoint world would encompass:

- 1) Creating guidelines for how SharePoint should be used
- 2) Creating a vision statement
- 3) Creating guidelines for posting content
- 4) Creating a retention policy
- 5) Creating a branding rules of the road so users know what fonts and colors to utilize

With SharePoint always evolving– it's impact and influence will be ever present.
